Chapter 1: So it begins...

The four elements lived in harmony, even if fire could burn earth or water could extinguish fire they found a balance in between themselves. Until the fire elements attacked the other elements, burning and evaporating anyone who would come across their way, the other elements knew that fire was too dangerous so they extinguished every single one of them. The other elements thought that the peace would be restored but now that the fire is gone, things started to get out of balance causing a war that would go on for hundreds of years...

700 years later...

The world became a cold and cruel place, a world full of thieves and murderers. No one could trust each other...

The men were the ones with control.

A young leaf was walking alone in a desert.

She had a backpack full of things, on her face she had eye bags and a tired look.

The only reason this leaf was still alive was because she was always moving from town to town. No matter how tired she was or even in winter she kept moving forward. Being a girl made living in this world very difficult, the men always take advantage of women, so at a very young age she ran away from her hometown.

The leaf was heading to the forest in front of the desert, but before she entered the forest she looked around the desert for abandoned towns. She saw a little town that was a mile or two from where she was, she walked closer to the town and noticed a lot of fire burns on the floor. As she entered one of the houses that were made of stone she saw that there were also a lot fire burns around the floor, coal in bags and a lot of fire ashes.

"This could come in handy", she thought while grabbing the bag of coal.

And then again she was on her way towards the forest.

Entering the forest made her a bit suspicious that she was not alone, it made her feel uneasy, afraid that the person in the forest was a man or if it were men. She pulled out a knife from her backpack and continued on her way.

She felt a wave of exhaustion on her body, her feet barely holding her body and backpack, she knew that she needed to take a break from walking more than a normal person could. And her lack of sleep wasn't helping her situation, she couldn't stay focused but she managed to resist from falling asleep, at least until she could find some sort of shelter.

The sun was setting, the birds started to go to sleep, but she continued to walk.

She wasn't fully aware of her surroundings, but she did notice that the forest had grown on top of some sort of small abandoned city.

Not too far from where she was there was a building, she ran as fast as she could. As she got closer she saw that there wasn't an entrance, she looked around the building and saw a window that seemed to have melted glass and fire burns around but she was so desperate to sleep that she just ignored it. She entered the building and saw that there were so many books on the walls and the floor, some of the books had burned pages, the little bushes in the building were burned as well, but again all she wanted was to sleep. She went to a small corner in between the shelves, pulled out a blanket out of her backpack and laid down.

She was looking at the ceiling, scared of something hurting her while she was sleeping, but she just heard crickets and owls outside of the building, all she could do is hope that nothing would happen.

She closed her eyes and said "Hopefully I'll be alive tomorrow".

Chapter 2: Me and who?

Just a bit over the forest, on a cold mountain, inside a cave, lived a lonely young flame. The last of the fire elements...

He was sitting on a rock bed while reading a book and eating coal. Little giggles would escape his mouth here and there. It was sorta quiet until...

"THEY KISSED???!!!!!", the flame yelled in excitement, causing his fire to go wild and burn the book.

"wait... NO, NO, NO, NOO-"

"Ugh... Not again..."

He goes outside of the cave and takes out the book.

"Nighttime, already?", he says to himself.

He looks at the stars with a sad look on his face. He sits down and feels the cold breeze over his body, smiling, enjoying the view and the weather. After a while he decides to go back inside.

He grabs a piece of coal and starts drawing on the wall. On the wall is a drawing of him smiling, underneath the drawing he writes "me and ___". He looks at it and says...

"Maybe I will meet someone and I won't have to be alone anymore"

A little frown grows on his face. All this flame has wanted was a friend, but he knew that it was better to just stay in the the forest and mountain where he couldn't hurt anyone.

"I think I should go too sleep", he says to himself and goes to his rock bed.

The flame stares at the ceiling and thinks before falling asleep...

"Tomorrow is a new day..."

Morning came...

The birds were chirping, the sun was slowly coming out over the horizon and the air was fresh.

The young flame woke up from their sleep. He looked around the cave before getting up, letting a groan escape his mouth. As he was about to leave he got his trolley cart and left the cave.

As he walked in the forest, he saw the birds with their pairs. It made him feel more lonely than he already was. But he couldn't let his feelings get in the way of survival so he snapped out of his thoughts and began to work. He started to pick up sticks and dry leaves, then he went to the buildings and houses looking for coal or old and dry materials.

His final stop was going to the library.

He entered the window and carefully made his way inside, making sure he didn't get anything on fire. He loved the smell of old books, he carefully grabbed a blueish book from the shelf, opened the first page. Didn't interest him, so he grabbed another book. Didn't interest him again, then grabbed another book, and again, and again, and again...

He gave up on that section of the book, and went looking in between the shelves, checking some of the books here and there. Nothing seemed to interest him.

Then he went to last bookshelf, right when he was going to enter he saw someone sleeping there.

He just looked at the body Infront of him, not knowing how to react, making sure not to burn the person as he got closer and saw that it was a leaf.

A small gasp escaped his mouth, causing the sleeping leaf to move a little, and in fear of getting caught the flame just ran away from the library.

"Wait! This is my chance to have a friend", he said in an exited tone.

The leaf, who was woken up by the flame, immediately threw out a knife to the wall only to see no one.

"I thought I heard someone...", She said to herself.

Then a thud was heard behind the shelf, along with the voice of a boy. "Ow.. I really got to watch where I'm stepping..."

The leaf immediately got another knife and held it close to her. Scared he will see her.
The boys footsteps got closer to her every second and as well her thoughts got darker. "What if he just wants to steal from me?... What if he steals and hurts me?.. What if he is not alone?... What if he tries to ra-" She snapped out of her thoughts as soon as she didn't hear any footsteps.

She took a deep breath and came out of the shelf, only to see a fire element who was a couple of inches far from her face.

Chapter 3: A girl

WARNING: Swearing

The flame just stared at the leaf's emerald green eyes, he noticed that her face was smaller than his and she seemed to have a much more feminine appearance. Then he looked at her hands and saw a knife. He jumped in fear, and felt something going through him. The knife didn't hurt him.

"This usually works...", The leaf said in shock

She immediately grabbed her backpack and took out a bottle full of water.

"Ahhh! PLEASE DON'T EXTINGUISH ME!" The flame begged the leaf.

She just looked at him with a furious face like he had hurt her or something. He looked at her, noticing her limbs were thinner than his.

"A-are you a girl?", he asked the leaf.

"No, I'm a number who came from the moon... WHAT THE HELL DO YOU THINK, DUMBASS?!", She yelled at the flame.

In return the flame looked at her confused, "Is that a yes? Sorry I've just never seen a girl before...", he said in a nervous and yet happy tone.

"SHUT UP! I need your hands in the air", The leaf yelled while the flame lifted his hands.

"So uhh.... Where are you from, leaf girl?", The flame said in a curious tone.

"I SAID TO SHUT THE HELL UP", She yelled aggressively while getting her backpack.

"You say a lot of naughty words...", He said.

"Is he joking," She thought "it's almost like he is a child". She was surprised by how Ignorant he was. "Is this an act? Does he think he can just try to fool me? Or is he actually this innocent? Whatever, a boy is a man..."

She slowly went around the flame and pointed the bottle of water at him. He just stared at her in confusion, still not understanding why she was so aggressive at him.

"W-wait! Where are you going?", he asked.

"None of your business, you damn imbecile." She snarled back at him.

After saying that she ran as fast and far away as she could from the building. After a couple of minutes she stopped to catch her breath. "I hope he didn't follow me", she thought. She looked at the sky to see that the sun was setting. "Dang, have i been asleep all day?!, seems like I really needed it"

"Maybe this time i should sleep in a tree", she said to herself while climbing a tree.
She watched the sun fade over the horizon. She loved seeing the stars slowly coming down of the sky. It reminded her of home...

"Thank God I lived another day..." She said while closing her eyes and drifting away in sleep.

The flame was still in the library after the leaf had left. Choosing a book to read until he just gave up and decided to go back home. He grabbed his trolley cart and went on his way.

While on his way, he felt different. He felt his heart racing, but that could have been because the leaf was threatening him. And he noticed he couldn't stop smiling, but that's because he knew he wasn't alone... Yeah...

Before entering his cave he looked at the sunset, It always made him feel lonely.
He was just staring at the ceiling, still trying to process what had happened. "I can't believe i met someone today! And more that they're a girl... But it seems like she didn't really like me... " He thought. "I hope she'll give me a chance... What if i don't see her again tomorrow?, What if she extinguishes me?, nah that's silly..."

"right?..."

"I mean... she did try to extinguish me..."

"Why am I overthinking so much???... She doesn't even like me..."

"Why does that last thought hurt me?....."

"Maybe i should just try to get some sleep..."

"..."

"Ugh... My belly feels weird...."

After about an hour of trying to sleep he decided to do something.

"I could draw... yeah... I'll do that."

He grabbed a piece of coal and started drawing on the wall. He slowly sketched a smooth spear shape, then he drew a straight line inside of it. He made sure everything was perfect, no coal smudges, no wavey lines, no mistakes. He added a feminine face contorted with rage, clenched fists and legs.

Once he finished he just started at the drawing.

"It looks just like her...", he said to himself, smiling.

After that he went to bed and drifted away in sleep.

Chapter 4: No one

Warning: SUGGESTIVE THEMES!! (Only in the beginning).

"Hello?"

"Mom?..."

"Pin?..."

"Anyone...?"

The leaf was in a back void walking alone...

When she called for help no one heard her...

Until someone answered her...

"Leafy..."

The leaf turned around and saw that it was a man...

Her eyes widened, her heart pounding faster, body shaking, hands cold and sweating. She just stood there, frozen in fear...

"D-dad?...", She managed to say.

After she said that he didn't answer her back. He smiled at her, and then a bunch of guys appeared behind her. They grabbed her arms from behind and pinned her to the floor.

"NOO! STOP!", she yelled but it didn't work.

"STOP! PLEASE LET GO!", she yelled again.

"MOM! PIN! PLEASE HELP ME!", she yelled and tears were forming in her eyes.

The men were laughing and touching her while she cried and called for help. She couldn't do anything but look at the men. She saw one who was smoking a cigarette, one who had gold teeth and a cowboy hat, and a drunk man who was touching her legs and a bunch other guys as well.

"S-stop.... Please...." She said crying and closing her eyes.

Then they all suddenly stopped. They all lifted their hands from her body and backed away. She slowly opened her eyes only to see the flame in front of her.

With a blank expression on his face.

"d-don't..... please...", she begged him.

"DON'T!!!"

She immediately opened her eyes and realized that it was only a dream. She was sweating and slightly tearing.

"I-it f-felt so real...", she said to herself in a shaky voice.

"What even is that flames deal anyway?... He didn't try to steal or hurt me... And how is he even alive, the fire element was supposed to be extinct hundreds of years ago... Maybe I should follow him...", Leafy thought.

But she couldn't let her fears and thoughts get in her way of surviving so she grabbed her stuff and slowly climbed down the tree. Then when she got down she started walking and looked at the sky...

The sun was barely coming out.

The flame woke up from their slumber. He didn't feel like doing anything, he just wanted to daydream or read a book. He looked around the room and saw the drawing of the leaf on the wall. He felt a rush of adrenaline in his body, it made his fire turn a little blue.

Immediately, he got up, got ready, grabbed his trolley cart and went on his way to the forest.

"AHHHHHHHHHH!!! I hope i see that leaf girl again", he thought while his face was beaming.

"For once I'm not alone in this forest"

"For once, unafraid, i can go where life leads me"

He felt like the world had more color everywhere, the world felt new and exiting. He felt like he could just explode, literally and figuratively, he didn't know what this new feeling was but he definitely liked it.
Even if it made his stomach feel weird.

As Leafy continued to walk she heard someone humming a song.

"That flame is humming?", she thought.

So she climbed the trees to see the flame. She carefully made her way over the trees, then she saw him...

"He seems in a happy mood...", she thought while her face started to fill of rage.

She saw that he had a big and bright smile on his face, and walking as if life was wonderful.

"This has to be an act... He's trying to trick me into thinking he's friendly... Well not today, you jeebweezer."

He went from building to building looking for scraps or anything useful. And Leafy followed behind.

The was the flames last stop, the library. He was looking for something romantic. Then he came across a pink book, so he put it in his trolley cart and decided to go back home.

"Hmm... I didn't see her today..." He said to himself, a little sad. Then he looked at the sky...

The sun was setting...

As he was walking back home he heard something fall from the tree behind his back. He looked behind and saw a squirrel with a knife sticking out of it's chest. He grabbed the knife and noticed that it was from the leaf. He started looking for her over the trees but couldn't find her.

"Hello?... uhhh... Leaf girl?" He said looking in the trees.

"You dropped something..." He said with a nervous smile.

No response.

"Do you want me to cook it up for you? I-i can do that, with no problem..."

No response again.

He grabbed a flat rock, dusted it and placed the squirrel on it.

"Well then I'll just leave it here..."

Then he went to his trolley cart, took out a grey sack and placed it next to the rock.

"Sooo... I guess I'll just leave then... Bye bye Leaf girl.", he said with a warm smile and continued walking.

Leafy was stunned by the kindness of this flame. No man in her life had showed her that much kindness, not even her own father.

"Leafy... DON'T YOU DARE FALL FOR THIS MAN'S TRICKS!", she thought to herself.

She went down the tree and went over to where the squirrel and opened the gray sack. It was full of blueberries and strawberries.

"Why would a man give food to someone they don't know..."

"Come on Leafy... You know he is trying to poison you... Idiot... But I can't just let these go to waste."

So she puts the sack in her backpack, grabbed the squirrel and climbed back up to the trees.

Back at to the flame, he was trying to sleep but he just couldn't again. He kept thinking about the leaf.

"I hope she liked the fruits I gave her..."

"What is wrong with me... She doesn't even like me... I'm just alone... Even dad knew I would be alone..."

"I just wish I had a friend... Is that so much to ask for?..."

"I seems like it..."

Lava tears started to form under his eyes, and little sobs escaped his mouth and he curled up to a little ball. He cried for a while until he eventually fell asleep.

He just wants to have someone...

Chapter 5: FORGET IT ALL!

Warning: swearing and a suggestive joke lol

It was early in the morning, the sun was out, the birds were singing, the squirrels were jumping around the trees and the weather was cool.

Leafy was up in the trees following the flame while he was picking up dry sticks.

"These last couple of days I've been stalking the flame and I'm pretty sure he knows..." Leafy thought. "But he doesn't seem to mind..."

She moves closer to where the flame is.

"Honestly... I've never seen a man who acts like the way he does... It doesn't seem like if he is faking it...". She thought as she moved even more closer to him.

"Why am I following this guy??!! I should have left the forest days ago.... WHY AM I QUESTIONING MYSELF. I WISHED I DIDN'T RUN IN TO HI- OH SH-", she fell from the tree.

The flame immediately looked behind him and saw the leaf flat on her face.

"A-are you okay?" He asked her with concern.

"Ugh... I'm fine...", she blandly said back at him.

He just looked at her bewildered. Leafy slowly got up with a face with rage.

"Sooo... Ummm... Are you going to keep spying on me?", The flame asked her, clearly uncomfortable.

She didn't answer his question.

"You uhhh... Haven't seen me going t-to the bathroom, r-right???", he said, blushing in embarrassment.

"And see your fire dick? Yeah, fat chance." She scoffed.

He just blushed at that thought.

They both stayed in an awkward silence until the flame asked the leaf a question.

"Do you need anything, leaf girl?"

"Don't call me that." She blandly said.

"Well then what should I call you?"

She hesitated for a second but then answered with "Leafy".

His eyes widened and a smile grew on his face.

"Leafy... What a lovely name" he said with joy.

"Shut up, it's the most basic name there is... So, what yours then, fire boy?"

"Oh I'm uhhh..." He thought for a second. "Firey... So it matches with your name." He said giving her a warm smile.

"Basic names... Heh..." He said nervously.

Leafy noticed that she was being friendly to him so had to act like she was actually hating him. She grabbed a knife from her backpack and threw it at Firey. And again, it didn't affect him.

"Shit... I forgot you're fire..."

"You really like saying naughty words don't you, Leafy?", he nervously said.

"Whatever..." She said while she walked over to where the knife was.

Then she just left him there without saying another word. Firey wanted to say something but decided to keep his mouth shut.

After Leafy left she lost herself in thoughts.

"Okay Leafy... WHAT THE ACTUAL HELL WAS THAT???!!!! WERE YOU JUST BEING FRIENDLY RIGHT NOW???!! What is wrong with me?"

She sat down under a tree, still surprised of how interested Firey was with her.

"He doesn't seem like he wants to hurt me or steal from me... He seems lonely more than anything... Maybe... I could... Try to befriend him..."

The after thinking a while she looked up at the sky and saw that it was cloudy.

"That's not good...", She said to herself.

Meanwhile, Firey was definitely bewildered of what had happened.

"Leafy...", he said to himself. He couldn't stop smiling whenever he thought of her name.

"I can't believe she's talking to me", he thought while trying to hold in his excitement. "I wonder though... Why was she hiding from me?", his excitement died down a bit.

Then he felt something burn on his body. He looked up at the sky and it looked like it was going to rain. He grabbed his trolley cart and started to run as fast a he could.

Firey kept running really fast but he soon started to get tired, he was still in the forest and his home is on a mountain, he wasn't sure if he would make it but he had hope. He stopped to catch his breath but then he felt more water drops on his body. He grabbed some sticks from his wagon and ate it, his fire grew a bit but the water drops were slowly extinguishing him. Then he took out a towel to cover his cart. After that he started to run again.

His fire lost the yellow and turned more reddish, he was dying. The rain was coming down faster and he needed to find shelter.

Luckily, there was a little shed not to far from where he was. He got underneath it, he was breathing really fast, his legs were shaking and his body barely had orange.

He could still feel water drops on his body, he looked up at the roof and noticed that there were holes.

"So this is it...", he said while crying. "This is how I'm going to die..."

"I- I didn't even get to befriend Leafy..."

He sat down, accepting his fate, closing his eyes and remembering all his best memories. His lava tears falling down from his eyes dried up as soon as it touched the ground. It was just him and his memories, until a feminine voice spoke.

"Here..."

He opened his eyes and saw that it was Leafy holding an umbrella. He looked at her, directly at her emerald eyes. The eyes that made his belly feel weird whenever he looked at them.

"What?"

"Take it..."

She said giving him an umbrella.

As he grabbed it and he slightly touched her hand. That made him want to explode. He looked at the umbrella and then said...

"Thank y-oh...", she was already gone.

He felt his fire turning heating up again. He stood there, with his face flushing blue.

"I feel weird....", he thought. *"*If she gave me her umbrella that means she is getting wet..."

As soon as he thought that he grabbed his trolley cart and went to look for Leafy.

Meanwhile Leafy was fighting with herself. Not knowing why she gave him her umbrella to him

" WHY I YOU GIVE MY UMBRELLA TO HIM???? NOW I'M MOST LIKELY OF GETTING SICK!"

"I swear... If I get sick I'm going to extinguish that Flame...", she said out loud.

"LEAFY!", Firey yelled from afar.

"Well speak of the devil...", leafy said, obviously annoyed.

"LEAFY!!!"

"WHAT THE HELL DO YOU WANT?!", she yelled back as he ran.

"W-wait..." Firey said as he tried to catch his breath. "D-do you w-want to come with me?"

"What?", she asked, confused.

"Do you want to come to my place? I don't want you to get wet..."

"I uhh..."

"Only if you want to...", he nervously added.

"Uhhhh... Sure..."

"Really?!!", his fire glowed a bit brighter.

"BUT... Don't you dare touch me."

"Why would I do that? I don't would never want to burn my friend.", he said embarrassed.

"We are not friends.", she blandly said, causing Firey to lose a bit of his glow.

"Okay... Well you can get in my wagon. Just get under the towel.", he said trying to hold back his tears.

She hopped on the cart and they went on their way.

She couldn't stop thinking of how much he respects her. It made her smile. Which it was something she hadn't done in years. She felt safe with him.

"Hey...", Firey tried to start a conversation. "We're almost there"

She just nodded.

They got to Firey's cave. She got off and went inside. It seemed like a comfortable place to live in.

"Sorry that my place is such a mess. I wasn't expecting visit.", he nervously said.

"It looks better that my house... Heh...", she thought.

"You can sleep in my bed."

"What? No, n-no I can't take it", she stuttered.

"Please... I want you to sleep well. I'll be fine."

She nodded and climbed into Firey's bed. It wasn't that comfortable, well it's made of rocks, but didn't say anything.

"Nighty night, Leafy.", he said, falling asleep in the floor.

"Night...", she blandly answered.

"Something tells me he's going to be just fine...", she smiled at that thought.

And then drifted off into sleep.

Chapter 6: Take my hand

Warning: suggestive scene at the beginning! and Leafy eating rotten squirrel

"S-stop.... Please....", Leafy begged while crying and closing her eyes.

Then the guys, who were touching her, suddenly stopped. They all lifted their hands from her body and backed away. She slowly opened her eyes only to see Firey in front of her.

He had a blank expression on his face.

"d-don't..... please...", she begged him.

He walked past her and went towards the men. He looked at them with a menacing face, his fire turning blue and fists clenched.

Then he burned all of them. The screams of agony were loud, but he didn't seem to regret what he did.

He turned around and began to walk towards her, she wanted to run away but she was paralyzed by fear. His blue fire turned back to orange and yellow.

Then he stood in front of her. Leafy was shaking, sweating and tearing.

Then he held out his hand.

Leafy stared at it, afraid that if she takes it he'll burn her. But not like she could do much so she took it.

He helped her get up from the ground. His face was showing that he worried about her.

"Are you okay?", he asked.

"Y-yes", Leafy stuttered.

He gave her a warm smile and hugged her. Leafy froze and didn't know how react, she just stood there smiling....

"..."

"What kind of a frickin dream was that...", Leafy thought, now awake. She was absolutely disgusted by that odd dream she had. As she was in bed she looked around the room.

She noticed that Firey wasn't in the room, so she decided to snoop around.

She looked inside the sacks, it was full a coal, sticks and berries. She looked at a corner full of wooden weapons that were burned. Nothing useful. Then she saw drawings on the wall, some were birds, squirrels, trees or sunsets but one of them was Leafy.

"Why am I ther-", her thought was cut off by Firey entering the room.

"Good morning Leafy" he said in a cheerful tone.

"Why am I on the wall?", she bluntly asked.

"Oh that? Well umm... I like to draw things that I think are worth remembering...", he responded shyly.

"You think I'm worth remembering? Why?"

"I mean, you are the first person I've seen from the outside world... Or I don't know...", he answered nervously. "Oh! Are you hungry? Cause I have berries", he tried to change the topic.

"I have my own food", Leafy responded reaching for a dead squirrel from her backpack.

Firey tried to hide his face full of disgust. She ripped the squirrel's head off with her teeth and chewed it like if it were bubble gum. Firey's face curled up in disgust, he couldn't hide it anymore.

"What?", Leafy asked, irritated by Firey's face.

"I think I'm going to be sick..."

"Oh come on... Don't you wanna try? It tastes better than how it looks...", she said, annoyed.

"No thank you", he nervously smiled.

They stayed in a uncomfortable silence. They just started at each other, Firey trying to keep a straight face and Leafy, well, she was just eating.

"Umm Leafy?", Firey started.

"What do you want?", she bluntly asked.

"Can I ask you a question?"

"It depends...", giving a suspicious look.

"Oh, I just want to know how the outside world is..."

"It's horrible", she answered with no hesitation. Firey eyes shot wide open. He looked at her, hoping she was lying.

"You heard me. If you are expecting the world to be all flowers, love and rainbows, well, it's not. If it were like that I wouldn't be here right now.", she added coldly, barely showing any emotions.

Firey didn't know what to think now, he was hoping he would be able to leave the forest now that he was older. He obviously didn't expect the world to be all happiness, but it did make sense, well Leafy was in the forest for a reason.

"Welp... I'm gonna leave", Leafy said while getting her stuff and making her way out of the entrance.

"Wait... what?"

And just like how Firey's dad left Firey, Leafy left him alone as well. He ran towards the entrance and looked for Leafy.

Leafy was already in the forest, alone with her thoughts.

"Ugh... I swear if he is following me I will extinguish that little bas-", her thought was interrupted by the sound of footsteps.

"FIREY! OH MY YOYLE STOP FOLLOWING ME!!!", she screamed at Firey.

"Well uh... You were following me for like a week...", he said quietly.

"Stop. Following. Me. I. Don't. Want. You. With. Me.", she said trying to keep her temper from exploding.

"I-". Leafy put her finger on Firey's lips. "SHHHHHHH! SHHHH! SHUSH... SHUT UP!"

She turned around and rubbed her finger that she burned, holding her pain. Then she slowly walked away.

"Will I... see you again...?"

She stopped walking.

"Most likely... Never again...", she answered softly.

Firey's flame died down, he turned to dark shade of red. Leafy continued walking.

"Well... Bye bye, Leafy...", he said in a soft and sorrowful tone.

And he watched her leave his sight.

"Alone again... Naturally...", he mumbled to himself.

He walked, went up the mountain and into his cave. He felt like the world was in shades of gray again. He layed down on his bed while tears fell from his face.

"What do I do, daddy?...", Firey said, hoping his father would somehow answer him.

"Why did you have to leave..."

He stared at the drawing of Leafy, it made him smile a bit.

"To only think that yesterday...", he softly said. "I was cheerful, bright and wide awake... Hm..."

"..."

"You know what... CURSE YOU LONELINESS!"

"I'M TIRED OF MOPING AND CRYING EVERY NIGHT! I'M NOT GOING TO DIE REGRETTING I DIDN'T SEE THE WORLD", he yells at himself.

Lava tears fell down from his eyes, he didn't want to be alone anymore. He had to do something about it.

He stood up, and started packing up stuff into his trolley cart. Before leaving, he looked at his home for the last time. It was were Firey had grown up, were he and his father lived. But if wants someone in his life he had to leave.

So he did.

Meanwhile Leafy, she continued to walk, emotionless. She didn't know where she was going.

She walked, and walked, and walked, and walked. Then she reached the desert. It was evening at that point.

She kept walking, not even looking back once. She passed many burned towns and walked on top of many corpse's. None of that affected her.

After walking in the desert for hours, the sun was setting. She noticed a old bridge over a dry river, so she got under it.

She laid down and watched the sun fading in the horizon. A little smile grew on her face. The silence was peaceful, no one could hurt her. She was lonely... No... She was alone.

Before falling asleep she said...

"Thank God I live another day..."

Then she drifted off to sleep.

Chapter 7: Stay here

Warning: swearing and violence

The sun was barely coming out of the horizon. The air was fresh and the clouds were pink.

Two men were on a horse, riding it in the middle of the desert.

"Yo Snowball...", a red block asked his friend.

"The hell do you want, blocky?", snowball asked blandly.

"Do you think we can find the imbecile that stole our money?"

"Hmm... Let me think... WHO IN THEIR RIGHT MIND WOULD WANT TO WALK A 2763 MILE DESERT?!", Snowball responded rudely.

"Jeez... Calm down, dude. Do you think she'd wanna be here? If anything I think she's broke so that means, she must be desperate of doing anything for money..."

"Your point is...?"

"We can make her clean the horse shit back at home... Or anything else we need."

"Oh right...", snowball thought.

"Plus... Maybe you or pen could get married to her, if she's available", blocky mockingly added.

"Shut up. You having a wife doesn't give you the right to make me feel more lonely than I already do"

They soon stumbled on a burned town. The slowly walked in it, looking every corner that was visible to them. A lot flies were surrounding the burned dead body's on the floor and big piles of ashes.

"It seems like there was a fight here...", snowball nervously whispered.

"No shit, Sherlock", Blocky bluntly responded.

After they got out of the town they noticed a forest from afar.

"So we're not going to question the fricking forest in front of us?"

"Hold up... Let me check ", Blocky says while taking out a map. He searched for the forest. "Nope, we're going around the forest"

"What... why?!"

"It's the dark forest, I've heard they have been strange sightings there"

"Ugh, alright you big baby", snowball agreed.

"Look who's talking...", Blocky thought.

So they went around the forest...

Meanwhile Firey... He was walking in the desert as well. He was tired of walking. His legs were shaking and trembling, he could barely breathe.

"I... C-can't d-do this... Any..... More"

Then he fell flat on his face. He looked behind to see how far he was from the forest...

He was 10 feet away from it.

Fudgeberries...

..."

Anger grew on his face. His flame turned a little blue and his hands grabbed the dirt on the ground. But then he tried to calm down.

"Suck it up, Firey...", he said to himself.

"Come on Firey, you know you don't want to die alone", he thought.

Then he continued to walk even if he was tired.

After walking for a couple of hours, Blocky and Snowball came across with an old bridge.

"FINALLY SOME SHADE!", Snowball yelled.

"I know, we can finally rest as well..."

As soon as they got under it they saw Leafy, who was eating a disgusting rotten squirrel.

"You...", snowball snarled.

Leafy threw the squirrel on Snowball's face and started running. Blocky laughed at Snowball.

"WHAT THE HELL ARE YOU WAITING FOR? SHE IS GETTING AWAY!"

"DON'T YELL AT ME!", Blocky yelled back.

Firey from the distance hear yelling and animal footsteps. So he ran towards it. He looked from the top of the bridge and saw two men, riding an animal he had never seen before, chasing Leafy. He immediately reacted, he threw his trolley on the floor and ran to the other side of the bridge.

"Shit! shit! shit! shit!", leafy mumbled to herself while running as fast as she could.

"I'll ride, you get her", snowball said to Blocky.

Blocky jumped off the horse and grabbed Leafy by her backpack. Which she took the opportunity and left her backpack behind, then kept running.

"Where do you think you're going?", Snowball mockingly said and got in front of Leafy.

He grabbed her by the tip of her head. She tried wiggling her way out but didn't work so she grabbed his arm and bit him. He didn't let go.

"Blocky, you never said she bites", Snowball laughed.

Blocky just ignored him and searched for the money in her bag. Leafy kept trying to escape but she was too weak for him.

"Aw this little girl thinks she can just get away from ROBBING MEN!", snowball yelled at her.

She spat in his face.

"I've stolen from a lot of men before and have gotten away with it, and all you've done is whine like a dog for being a big baby", she taunted him.

Snowball, enraged, threw her to ground and pinned her down. He slowly raised his fist, but right when he was about to punch her, he stopped. He saw how she covered her face with her hands and shaking, something that he was able to recall from his childhood.

As soon as he was going to get up, he melted into water. Leafy uncovered her eyes and saw Firey with a scared look and his hands covering his mouth.

"Dude let's go, I got the money... What the hell?", He was startled by the large puddle of water. Then he looked up and saw the fire element.

Firey got closer to Blocky trying to apologize.

"I'm so sorry I didn't think I was going to melt your frien-", Firey's line was cut of by a splash of water that Blocky threw at him.

Blocky immediately got on his horse and ran off.

Firey was trying to hold his pain from the water. Then he looked back at Leafy, she was still in the ground a little frightened.

"LEAFY!", he ran twords her. "Are you okay?", he said and held out his hand.

"I'm getting deja Vu right now...", Leafy thought.

"I'm fine, fireman..."

She took his hand and got up. Then she dusted herself.

"That's good to hear, but are you sure? I mean, it seemed like that guy was goi-", his line was cut off by Leafy slapping him.

"YOU DUM DUM! I SAID NOT TO FOLLOW ME AND DON'T YOU REALIZE? PEOPLE WILL KNOW YOU'RE ALIVE!", she said while rubbing her hand.

"What's the problem of that?"

"You really are a dum dum...", Leafy said facepalming herself. "People are afraid of fire elements, you idiot!"

"Still? I thought the people weren't scared anymore. I mean, because you weren't..."

"What? Why would you think that? That man tried to extinguish you. I TRIED TO EXTINGUISH YOU!"

"I know people are still scared but I hope someone isn't...", he said quietly but loud enough to hear it. "I guess I leave then... Bye bye Leafy..."

"wait..."

Firey stopped walking and turned around.

"I want you to uhh... Stay here with... Me...", she nervously said.

A little smile grew on his mouth.

"Don't think we're now friends or anything, but umm... You'll stay?..."

"Yeah, but I need to get my stuff back, brb", Firey said while running towards to the top of the bridge.

"Ugh Leafy, what has gotten into you lately?...", she thought. "He'll probably leave you, like the others... Damn I'm getting tired of thinking the same thing..."

"I'm back!", Firey yelled, running towards Leafy.

She just rolled her eyes and continued walking, which he did as well.

It was dusk, the atmosphere was pretty quiet, sort of. On their long walk, Firey was asking a lot of personal questions to Leafy.

"Where are you from? Where are we going? Why are you so mad all the time? What kinds of food for you eat? I mean other than the squirrels..."

"SHUT UP ALREADY!!! I'm not going to answer all of your questions, so pick one of them...", she yelled, clearly irritated.

"Oh umm okay... Well then, where are you from?"

"Yoyleland", she responded blandly.

"Yoyleland? I've never heard of it... What's it like living there?"

"I said one question..." "Oh right... sorry"

The rest of the walk was quiet. They walked for another hour, Leafy didn't show her tiredness and Firey he was obviously tired and in pain but didn't want Leafy to think he was weak.

The moon was already shinning bright.

"Stop walking. I need to sleep.", Leafy said.

Firey laid down on the ground and curled up into a little ball. He looked to see where Leafy was laying, she was about ten meters away from him and she wasn't facing him.

"GOOD NIGHT, LEAFY!", Firey yelled.

"You don't have to yell", she responded back.

"Oh, okay...

Can I ask you another question?", he nervously said.

"Fine..."

"If we're not friends... What are we?"

Leafy was stunned by the question, but acted like she didn't care.

"I guess this is... An alliance... You know, I help you and you help me. I don't know... GO TO SLEEP", she responded rudely.

"Alrighty... Night leafster"

"...yeah..... Night..."

The word alliance echoed in Leafy's head. She didn't think she would ever say that word again. But she pushed her thoughts away and went to sleep.

Chapter 8: My Friend

Warning: swearing

"Leafy?"

"Yes, Pin?"

I was sitting on the swing with Pin, my old friend. The sky was yellow, the sun was shining brightly. The smell of metal in the air, the familiar purple ground, and the busy sound of the town was calming for me.

"If you could marry anyone in the world, who would it be?"

"Oh my yoyle, AGAIN WITH THIS?", I jokingly got mad at her. "You're so lovesick"

"You know me, I'm helpless when it comes to true love", she responded

I rolled my eyes. When I was still with Pin, all she ever talked about was love. It, almost, hurts me to see her live in a fantasy.

"Pin, you really need to snap back to reali-", then I was cut off by Pins boy toy.

"BOO!"

"COINY! You scared me!", she said while punching him in the arm.

"I know. It was my super duper evil plan all along", Coiny said proudly.

"Yeah very evil. And you shouldn't be looking at me without my hijab on...", she anxiously said.

" But I like seeing you without it. It's the only time I can see the beautiful work of art that god gave me"

"SHUT UP PLEASE! YOU GUYS ARE GROSSING ME OUT", I yelled.

"Then why are you still here?", Pin said.

"Yeah, you're right. I'm gonna go home"

She noticed I was a little upset, so she came up to me alone.

"Hey, you okay?"

"Of course. Why wouldn't I be?", I responded, giving my brightest smile.

"You're horrible at lying. Is it because of me and Coiny?",

"Maybe..."

"Look... Leafy, you are my best friend in the entire world, okay?... Alliance...?"

"Alliance"

A part of me believed Pin didn't need me, even if she said she did, I couldn't believe it. She had Coiny, a gentleman who would definitely take a bullet for her, and me? The bullet would pass through me. The other part of me said she did need me.

Then that day came...

I was right.She didn't need me...

"LEAFY! LEE! LEE!", Pin yelled, and ran twords me. She was full of great joy. I had never seen her that happy before.

"I'm not going anywhere", I said playfully, rolling my eyes.

"I'M GONNA GET MARRIED WITH COINY AHHHHHHH-", Pin jumped in my arms and yelled in my ear.

"What?...", I said, very confused. "We're literally nine years old..."

"Oh silly leafy. I'm obviously gonna marry him in the future.", she said hugging me tightly. "BUT OH MY YOYLE I'M SO HAPPY I COULD SCREAM MY LUNGS OUT!!!"

"I'm happy for you, Pin", I said giving her a warm smile.

She was so lucky. She has what I want.

That afternoon I walked around town alone.

That's was the first time I thought...

I should run away.

I entered my home and saw my parents. They were talking but stopped when I entered, they were both smiling... Something wasn't right. I head bowed down and was about to go twords my room when my father called me.

"Leafy, we need to talk..."

"Leafy?"

"Leafy?"

"Leafy?"

"Leafy?..."

"Leafy? Are you okay?"

Leafy snapped out of her thoughts. She realized it was midday and they were walking in the desert.

"Huh?"

"Are you okay? You just seem more quiet than you usually do", Firey nervously said.

She stopped walking and turned around.

"Well, WHY DON'T YOU JUST MIND YOUR OWN FUCKING BUSINESS, YOU FATASS?!", she yelled aggressively at Firey.

Firey backed away from Leafy. It was obvious that he feared of Leafy, and for the first time in years she felt bad.

"Uh... I'm fine... Thanks for asking"

"Don't mention it", Firey said, maintaining his distance.

She continued walking. A little smile surged on her face, she tried to hide it but that didn't work. She thought it wouldn't hurt if she was herself for a couple hours. Then Firey spoke again.

"Hey Leafy... Do you want to talk for a bit? It doesn't have to personal, it can just be random things"

"Sure... But I don't know what to talk about", she tittered.

Firey was surprised by the sudden change of personality, which he definitely liked more than other version of Leafy.

"That's alright. I have many things to talk about.", Firey said.

The rest of the afternoon was full of laughter. They were laughing so hard that they could barely breathe. For the first time, Firey had seen Leafy being herself. It was already nighttime.

"He said I got your diginity and I responded with I got your money", Leafy laugh her butt off. Firey was very concerned but hid it with a fake laugh.

"I'm surprised how you can just decide to change personality so easily...", he said.

"Fudgeberries... That slipped out", he said covering his mouth.

After he said that they stayed in an awkward silence.

"Let's just eat and go to sleep, okay?", she said quietly.

Firey sat down and Leafy was far from him again. He got a bag of coal from his trolley and started eating.

"Hey, Firey...", Leafy started to talk.

"Yeah?"

"Thanks... For staying...", she said

"Always...", he said giving her a soft smile.

Leafy smiled at his response. She lied down and closed her eyes.

Meanwhile...

Blocky was riding his horse to his hometown.

He ran towards the center of the town and rang the big bell.

"EVERYONE WAKE UP! GET UP NOW!", Blocky screamed his lungs out.

A bunch of men got out of their houses, half asleep.

"BLOCKY! THIS BETTER NOT BE ONE OF YOUR PRANKS!", A man yelled.

"I PROMISE THIS TIME IT'S NOT A JOKE! PLEASE EVERYONE GET UP, WIVES AND CHILDREN AS WELL. EVERYONE NEEDS TO KNOW!", Blocky continued to yell.

"Just spit it already, idiot!", Pen yelled behind him.

"HURRY UP! WE HAVE A LIFE, YOU KNOW?, a woman yelled.

Blocky was practically chocking with his words. People started to get concerned, if he looked afraid then it's something bad.

"T-THERE A-ARE LIVING FIRE ELEMENTS!"

The crowd was silent.

Until one spoke up.

"Duh... The iota fire elements are slaves!", a man yelled.

"NO! NO A IOTA! A FULL FIRE ELEMENT!"

The crowd gasped. A lot of chatting was in the crowd.

"Y-you're joking, r-right?", Eraser said, worried.

"I wish I was... They killed Snowball...", Blocky responded.

"WHAT!?", a man yelled. "Aren't they supposed to be extinct?" A child said.

"Where on earth did you find this full fire element?!", a tricenarian meteorite questioned.

"... Uhh..."

"Well?"

"Near the burned towns, by the forest...", Blocky nervously said.

Everyone was shocked.

"IT'S FORBIDDEN TO GO THERE!", another man yelled.

"He has unleashed the monster..." A woman said " He has put us in danger "

"The only reason I went near was cause a thief had stolen my money.", Blocky defended himself.

"EVERYONE, ENOUGH! ALL OBJECTS PLEASE PAY ATTENTION!" Tree yelled in the middle of the crowd. The entire town went silent. "Tomorrow morning we're having a meeting in the town hall, only men are aloud. You are all excused"

Slowly the people went back to their houses.

Tree walked towards Blocky. "Come on, we're going to recover Snowball"

"wait, but what about my wif-"
"You can see her after". Tree said walking away with Blocky.

The meteorite was hiding behind a house. He made sure everyone had gone home. Then he walked and quietly made his way out of town. Then he went to a near oasis.

Once he entered, he walked deeper in the oasis and there was a little camp site. Two objects where on a table, one was putting plates and the other was just sitting.

"Match! Stop sitting around and help your father." A lifeboat match got after her daughter.

"Mom... Like, why are you making me do so many chores?", Match asked.

"Uhh... Well you see... You're uh... Oh Meteor! It's good to see you're okay."

"Good evening, Mister Meteorite", Match said, respectfully.

"Hey lifeboat, hello Match. What's up?"

"Not much, but any money?", Lifeboat said.

"A lot, today was our lucky day. How did Matchbox do?"

Then Matchbox showed up with a plate of coal and burned wood and gave it to Match.

Match's eyes brightened. "Dad! You said you said you didn't make enough money!", she said, smiling.

"I didn't make enough... I made more than enough", Matchbox said proudly.

They all rolled their eyes, playfully.

"Anyways, like... LET'S EAT, I'M STARVING", Match yelled.

Chapter 9: Everyone knows

Warning: Swearing, violence and alcoholic drinks.

Morning came, the men were entering the town hall.

"ATTENTION EVERYONE!", Tree yelled. "I know everyone is worried about being burnt alive, but I need you all to listen..."

All the men stayed quiet.

"Blocky and Snowball, I'll be asking questions. But I need the complete truth, can I trust you guys?"

Blocky and Snowball nodded.

"Okay... Blocky, where were you when snowball was attacked?"

"The hell? It's a frickin court but whatever. I was not to far from him, searching for my money in a backpack."

"Alright... Snowball, what were you doing before you died?", Tree asked.

"Uhhhh... I was beating the shit out of the thief", Snowball proudly said.

"Oh... How are you not in jail...", Tree said, concerned.

"Seriously? A lot of men beat the shit out of their wives, and that's not a crime?"

"SHUT UP. We're talking about the fire element right now!", a man yelled in the crowd.

"Yes please, let's not get distracted. Snowball, did you kill him by any chance?", Tree questioned.

"Yes I did. I-"

"Snowball, could you stop lying?", Blocky interrupted.

"FINE, I DIDN'T BEAT THE THIEF NOR I KILLED HER!", Snowball yelled at Blocky.

"Her?, ah whatever. Since this isn't working, I'm just gonna send a message to the nearby towns. You're all dismissed", Tree said, irritated.

Firey was sleeping peacefully on the hot sand.

"Firey. Wake up...", Leafy said quietly to him.

"Firey...", She said it louder.

"Five more minutes, dad..."

"FIREY! GET YOUR BIG ASS UP!", she finally yelled at him.

"What?", Firey said, sitting up. Then Leafy points behind him. He looks behind and sees a giant dark cloud.

"Fudge my berries, I DIDN'T KNOW IT COULD RAIN IN THE DESERT!", He said getting and grabbing his stuff.

Leafy also got her backpack. "No, you dum-dum, it's a sandstorm. But that doesn't matter, we need to start walking, NOW"

Then Leafy started running the opposite direction of the storm.

"YOU SAID WE WERE WALKING!", Firey yelled trying to catch up to Leafy.

"You can walk if you want to die", she looked back at him and saw him very far behind.

"Ughh, come on slowpoke", she said grabbing his trolley.

"Look! Over there!", Firey points towards a little neighborhood. "We could hide there, until the storm passes."

So they ran towards it.

They finally reached the town. They passed the streets and luckily, the people were in their houses. As they ran, Leafy noticed a closed alley.

"Quick! Get in here" Leafy quietly yelled and grabbed Firey by his arm.

They both went to the end of the alley and sat down.

"The storm could go on for a while...", Leafy says, looking up trying to see the storm.

"I still can't believe I'm in a neighborhood with other objects...", Firey said softly. "Even if I'm hiding from them... Do you think they'll accept me one day?", he asked sadly.

"No", Leafy responded coldly. "Knowing people, they won't... I mean, who else would you need when you have me", she added proudly. He giggled at her.

"You know I'm just kidding, right? The moment you find someone you can just leave me behind.",

"Why would I want to do that?, unless if you don't like me, but other than that, I will be here by your side."

Firey saying that made Leafy want to smile, but she felt like that would be stupid. So she just kept a straight face and looked away from him.

Firey eventually fell asleep, leaving just Leafy alone with her thoughts.

"He's a fool and don't I know it...", she thought. "But a fool can have his charms..."

"Why the hell did I think that..."

She stared at the sky, waiting for the storm to pass. She was at peace, it was quiet, just the sound of burning fire was ringing in her ears.

"This can't be right... It's too peaceful..."

Leafy quietly left the alley. She saw a lot of people were already walking in the streets.

She also started walking around the streets, she had forgotten what it felt like to be a normal person who walked by.

"L-leafy?", a high pitched voice asked.

"Needle? What are you doing here?"

"I could ask you the same thing... Where have you been? Everyone hates you for running away. You've ruined your bloodline and your descendents", Needle said.

"I-i know. How was supposed to kno-"

"Don't you know? Pin was so fucking devastated after you ran away and you didn't even come to her wedding. What kind of friend are you, Leafy?"

"I-i'm sorry for not wanting to be A SLAVE LIKE THE REST OF YOU GIRLS!", Leafy yelled aggressively at Needle. "Sure that meant leaving everything and everyone behind and sure it was very selfish of me, but that's how it is in this stupid world."

Needle was holding her rage twords Leafy.

"I'm not going to let people control me like you, Needy..." Leafy said. Needle finally snapped and tried to slap Leafy but she managed to dodge it.

"Didn't you ever think of hurting Pin? Coiny? Your mother?"

" I-i... I-i...", Leafy was choking on her words.

"And Pin said you were the nicest person alive."

Meanwhile Firey was sleeping peacefully in the alley. Until his sleep was interrupted by strange voices.

"Shh... Someone might hear us...", a stranger whispered.

"Just grab the stuff already!" Another stranger quietly yelled.

"Huh?... WHOA WHOA WHAT ARE YOU GUYS DOING?!", Firey yelled, his flame turning blue.

"What the... The fire is alive?!..."

"QUICK GET THE STUFF", the strangers stole their bags and started to run out of the alley.

"Wait no! Give it back!", Firey yelled, chasing the thieves.

He catched up to them and ran out of the alley. He was able to get his bag and Leafys as well. But he was exposed to the people already.

"SOMEONE PLEASE HELP US!", the thief yelled.

The people who were walking around there, ran away from him, the children were crying, the women were screaming and the men started to surround him.

"EXTINGUISH THAT MONSTER!", people yelled In the crowd. "SEND IT BACK TO FIRELAND!"
"KILL THAT SON OF A BITCH!" "IT'S GOING TO BURN US!" "KILL IT! "WATER IT DOWN!"

The hurtful words echoed in Firey's head. His flame started to die down, turning to a dark red.

Needle and Leafy were still screaming at each other.

"SO YOU'RE JUST GOI- what the...", Needle and Leafy noticed that there was people running towards the closed alley.

"Why are guys running?", Needle asked a guy passing by.

"There's a living Fire element!", He yelled taking out a water balloon. So Needle ran towards the crowd.

"Oh no... Hold on Firey", Leafy said to herself, also running towards the crowd.

"KILL IT! KILL IT! KILL IT!", The crowd said In unison, while throwing water at him.

He tried backing away but they just threw water at him anyways, they had circled him. He just stayed in the center and curled up into a little ball, crying and hoping Leafy would save him.

Which she would.

"GET AWAY FROM HIM!", Leafy yelled, trying to get in the circle.

No one was letting her in. So she climbed on top of them and entered the circle.

"WAIT! Before you kill thi-"

"GET AWAY FROM THERE, FUCKING BIT-", Needle interrupted Leafy.

"AS I WAS SAYING! Before you kill this... Thing... I want you all to answer a question for me. What's deadlier, a flame or a leaf?"

"Duh, a flame", everyone blandly answered.

"Well duh...", Leafy said, a big smile growing on her face. "...Wrong answer"

She grabbed Firey by the arm and threw him out of the circle. Then she took out her knives and launched it at the people in front. Causing them to die.

Now all eyes were on her. She jumped over them and ran towards an alcohol store. She broke the glass, entered and searched for vodka.

"Hehe... Bingo, one for me, and ten for the fire", she said, quickly grabbing the vodka bottles from the shelf.

She then threw the shelves full of bottle of alcohol. Then she got out of the store and started to make a trail of vodka.

The people threw pitchforks at Leafy, which she dogged and ran twords Firey. He was grabbing their stuff when leafy shoved him to the ground, making the vodka on the floor to light up on fire. The trail of vodka went straight to the alcohol store.

"Run now! Run while they're distracted", Leafy said quietly, pulling Firey by the arm. They ran, trying to leave.

Leafy saw a horse and took it, then they rode it out of the neighborhood.

"Do you think they'll be fine?", Firey asked.

"I'm sure they-", a giant explosion was heard from behind. " -will..."

Part of the neighborhood was on fire, the people were freaking out, and Needle was enraged.

"Woah, what happened here?", Bomby walked twords Needle, eating a banana.

"Well, it looks like we have a traitor.", Needle said, picking up a knife that Leafy had dropped, "We have to warn Pin and Coiny, we'll tell them their friend is still alive"

"Leafy?, she's still alive?"

"That's what I just said, idiot..."

Chapter 10: Falling

Warning: swearing, drinking, suggestive dialogue and CRINGE. ALSO MERRY CHRISTMAS!! Enjoy the chapter.

"Leafy... Do you think you should calm down with the drink?"

"Ugh.. Huh?", Leafy stopped drinking.

"Well you're drinking that as if it were air"

"Look fatass, I really need this drink. I've had a horrible day and you've definitely had it worse, so why don't you just shut the hell up and drink"

"I don't want it, thank you though"

"Your loss", she grabbed his bottle and chugged it.

"Is everything alright?", Firey asked, concerned.

"Again with these questions?, all you ever do is worry about me and WHY? I'm HORRIBLE to you, I call you things and I've tried extinguish you and I should be worrying about you when you're the one who almost died and I'm just so selfish and and and...", she fell down from the horse.

"What was in that drink?", Firey said, getting down from the horse.

"Delicious vodka, big firebutt man... You know I really like your ass heh...", Leafy said thoughtlessly and walking away.

"Ummm... Thank you?..." He tried walking towards her.

"Wha-w-why are you following me?"

"Uh... Because you fell off this... I don't know what animal it is"

"It's a horsie, dumbass", she said, while sitting down on the ground. Firey did as well. And out of nowhere she started laughing.

"...I miss them, Firey...", Leafy said crying and laughing at the same time. "I miss mom, Pin, Coiny... Even creepy dude who would stare at my ass. Tho I'm flat as hell..."

Firey was definitely concerned about that last comment. But tried to ignore it.

"... I also miss someone, my dad...", he softly said.

"LOOK FIREY, A BUG!", she yelled at him, very joyful. "I remember one time I... ATE a bug and- did I mention that I think you're weird? You haven't tried to touch my parts or leave me for dead and- are you okay? You look a bit pale..."

Firey was horrified by Leafy's words. "Leafy....I would never do that to you. Y-you're... not okay, are you?..."

"I-i'm f-fine... I have your ass now... A-and you have mine as well. Your different, a-and I like that", she said giving him a crooked smile.

After giving him a smile, she tried walked away, but ended up passing out and falling flat on her face.

"Sweet dreams, Leafy. You need it", he said covering her with a blanket.

He laid down far from her. Even though he wanted to be near her.

He started at the stars glowing in the dark, beautiful night. He felt the soft sand in his body, it wasn't the first time he felt it but he preferred sleeping in the sand than sleeping in the bed of rocks.

"Can someone please, like, explain to me why we're walking in the middle of the desert?", Match questioned her parents.

"Well uhh... We're going to look for someone... I'm sure you're going to love him.", Lifeboat said nervously.

"Oh yeah, he's the same age as you and he's just like us, a fire element", matchbox added.

Match was a little concerned but she trusted her parents. "A fire element? Don't you mean a iota fire element?..."

"Nope full fire", meteor said. That left Match speechless.

"I heard that the fire element attacked two objects a couple days ago, one of them died", meteor proudly said.

"That's to hear", lifeboat said.

"I hope I like him... He seems kinda scary, like I hope I don't get killed by him...", Match thought. "I've never met another fire element, just Mr. meteorite, but it'll be nice to have a friend."

Morning came.

"Leafy..."

"Wakey wakey, it's morning...", Firey said softly, being close to to her face.

"Ugh...", Leafy opened her slowly eyes, trying to adjust to the light of the fire. "What the fuck happened?"

"Well, you were drinking vodka, then you started to act differently and you talked about my butt and-"

"What did I say about your butt?", she said nervously, sweating.

"Y-you just said you... Liked it..."

"Oh... Of course I had to say something like that...", she said, trying to stand up. "Should've drank three bottles, maybe i would've died this time"

"Do you need help getting up?", he asked her.

"No", she responded rudely, and attempting to stand up but fell again.

"Yes"

She grabbed his hand and he walked her over the horse. Then on the road again. Firey was a little scared of riding a horse but managed to ride it.

"Do you want to talk?"

"About what?", she answered rudely.

"I don't know... Maybe we could talk about our childhoods..."

"Sure... I guess... I honestly don't care, I have a horrible headache so please forgive me if I'm a bitch"

"Okay... Well when I was little, I loved drawing. One day I drew on my dad's back and he got so mad at me he burned a tree.", he said, giving a child like laugh.

"When I was little I used to play with my friends... They were very lascivious but other than that, they were... Fun...", Leafy said, woefully.

"You know... I would have loved to have friends growing up... It was just me and my dad for a long time..."

"My dad was big pain in my ass, he forced me to do so many things...", Leafy said, coldly.

"...Like what?..."

"So it was just you and your father for a while. What happened to him?", she moved the focus back to him.

"Oh... One day, he said he was leaving, but promised to come back... I waited for four years..."

"Hmm... You do realize that he's most likely dea-", she was interrupted.

"DON'T SAY THAT!", Firey yelled, making his flame expand and turn a bit blue.

He burned Leafy's left arm, the sight of burned skin from her arm triggered Firey. His flame immediately started to die down.

"I-I-I'm so sorry Leafy I-i-", he started to panic.

"Firey, calm down, I'm fine"

He jumped down from the horse and searched in his trolley for bandages.

"WHERE IS IT?! FUDGEBERRIES!! I-I- KNOW I HAVE BANDAGES SOMEWHERE. I-I-"

"FIREY!", he finally snapped back to reality. "I'm okay... I'm... S-sorry, I shouldn't have said that"

He felt ashamed for hurting Leafy. He wanted to help her but was afraid of burning her again.

She got off the horse and grabbed a bandage from her backpack. Then carefully wrapped it around her arm.

"It's okay, Firey. Accidents happen", she reassured him.

They both got on top of the horse again and continued their way for another few hours.

"How about we eat and then go to sleep? Sound good?"

He just nodded. They both got off the horse and sat down on the floor. Leafy was eating a rotten squirrel when she noticed Firey looking alarmed.

"Why aren't you eating?"

"I'm not hungry...", he said, deadpanned.

"Are you sure?... I just... Nevermind"

"I'm so sorry Leafy", he quietly said, tearing up.

"Firey...", she placed her hand over his. "STOP BEING A SISSY! You just burned me, you didn't kill me"

She then sighed and stood up. "Welp, I'm gonna hit the hay. Night, fatass"

"Sleep well, Leafy", Firey said, showing a bit of care.

He watched her go far away to sleep. Then he threw himself to the ground.

He played with his hands for a while, making a story with it.

*"Hey Leafy, I'm fire and I could h*urt you... Oh hey Firey, I like your butt and I think you're weird... Oh Leafy, if I could I would... What am I thinking...", he thought, curling himself into a little ball and closing his eyes tightly. He fell asleep.

After a while he woke up and saw Leafy in front of him, sleeping peacefully. It took him by surprise.

For the first time he saw her face up close. He felt his stomach feeling weird again. He got a little more closer to her, looking at every detail on her face.

He gently placed his hand over her cheek, feeling her soft face. His eyes widened, a little smile grew and his face flushed. Smoke came out from the top of his body and he slowly became blue.

"What am I doing?... I shouldn't be touching her", he thought. He pulled his hand away from her face, and he stopped looking at her. He just stared at the dark sky. His flame going back to normal.

Eventually falling asleep again.

In the forest...

Was Leafy, walking. Alone.

Then he saw her, so he got closer to her. Soft waltz music played. When Leafy saw Firey, she gave him a small smile, getting closer to him as well. He gently took her hand and looked at her emerald green eyes.

"Take my hand, take it my friend", Firey was walking her out of the forest. "I'll be here by your side"

The trees went under the ground, making the background to be a beach.

"Now and forever, you'll be part of my dream", He said, looking at an island from the distance.

"If I were to be honest, I'd be just fine if it were only us two", they both waltzed over the water, going twords his dream island.

"You might say that I'm crazy...", Firey wrapped his arms around her back and softly said...

"But I'm just in love..."

"With you..."

Chapter 11: The plan

Warning: Swearing, suggestive themes and sus jokes lol.

It was nighttime, the moon shinning bright.

In the yoyleland subway , people were getting off their train. Needle and Bomby were two of them, they were the only ones who had returned from the desert.

The subway was a cold and disgusting place. Homeless people lived there, as well as drug dealers and object traffickers, making trash and doing their necessities there. Nobody cared. They only cared about themselves. And that was just the subway, the city was way worse.

"Attention everyone, the train twords the desert is no longer available for now, please get your refunds if you bought tickets"

The people in subway softly talked and complained, wondering what it could be.

Needle and Bomby walked out of the subway, they were both scared as they walked past the streets and houses.

They saw all the people in the streets, some of them were drinking alcohol, others were doing drug, some others were stealing and much more but Needle and Bomby tried ignoring them.

After walking for a while they went to a private street. It was quiet, no one was on the streets. Houses were lined up perfectly, clean streets, it was perfect.

"2..7..6..3... Oh, here", Needle said to herself.

They stood in front of a two story house, and she knocked. But no answer.

"Be right back Needle, I'm gonna pee in the neighbors backyard", Bomby said, leaving.

"Umm... Okay", she said, disgusted. She knocked again. And no answer.

"HELLO? IS ANYONE HOME?", Needle yelled, knocking on the door loudly.

Then the door finally opened, and Coiny came out of his house. He had big bags under his eyes and had an exhausted face

"Hey Needle...", he greeted.

"Hey Coiny, sorry for waking you up at this hour..."

"It's fine, I was awake anyways", he said, while rubbing his eyes.

"Doing what?"

"Pin"

"Ew, anyways, I need to talk to both of you"

"Sure thing, come in", he said, leading her inside.

He lead her to the living room, Needle sat down on a couch and Coiny went upstairs to call Pin.

"She'll come here in a second. Do you want anything? Water, tea, dirt cake...?"

"No thanks, I'm good"

"Hello Needle, what's up?", Pin entered the conversation. She looked worse than Coiny, she was putting on a plastic cap for her point.

"A lot, but what about you? Any luck?", Needle asked.

"Nothing at all, and I need it happen or else they'll replace me. Anyways what was so Important to tell us at 3 in the morning?"

"Right. Your friend is still alive.", Needle blandly said.

"Wait... Leafy? How? Is she okay or did she say anything about me?", Pin was dumfounded. A huge smile grew on her face.

"Oh, she's okay, alright. She's more than a runaway and a disgrace to her family..."

"She's a murderer and a thief!", Coiny shouted. "I've seen her before..."

"YOU WHAT? YOU DIDN'T THINK IT WAS A GOOD IDEA TO TELL ME?!", Pin yelled at Coiny, full of anger.

"Pin, can we talk about this later? Continue, Needle..."

"She uhh... She's a traitor, she was with a fire element. Saving that thing from being killed."

"A fire element? Needle...They're extinct", Coiny said, slightly concerned.

"Well somehow this one is alive... Have you guys not heard or something?!"

"No... Are you trying to prank us, cause it's not going to work...", Pin was getting offended.

"What? No! Of course not, look", she gave pin a wanted poster of Leafy. "And these as well..."

She gave Pin more wanted posters. She couldn't believe it, her dear friend, was alive.

"She's sided with the fire element, hurting people..."

"That doesn't sound like Leafy... She would never hurt someone...",

"I talked to her, she didn't think of how it would affect everyone... Anyways I think I should go, Bomby was waiting for me outside"

"Of course, going", Coiny got up and opened the door for Needle.

Right when she going to get out she said, "I know it's not my business but if you need anything, you should try the black market. They'll have what you need..."

"You think so?"

She nodded. "Later, Coiny", then she walked away with Bomby.

"I'm going to sleep", Pin said blandly.

"What? Just like that? No more fun?", Coiny said, in a flirty tone.

"No. We have work in the morning, AND we haven't slept in three days. So let's sleep..."

They both lied in bed, staring at the ceiling.

"Coiny... What are we going to do?"

"Needle said we could try our luck in the black market..."

"I don't know, Coiny..."

"Pin... We're desperate, my parents are already planning on separating us..."

Coiny wrapped his arms around her and pulled her closer.

"We'll figure it out, somehow...", Pin softly said, falling asleep.

"So... You told them?", Bomby asked Needle.

"Yuppers, I did, now we'll see if her friend will live..."

Tree was walking in the desert. He had a tube of paper. Then bell slowly came down from the clouds.

"Bell...", Tree greeted.

"Password.."

"What?! What password? We never agreed to a password"

"Ugh... I never have any fun"

Tree got on top of bell and held on tight to her string. She slowly ascended to the clouds. As he went up he saw a huge office for the leaders of the earth. He was excited to see everyone.

Only to see a war occurring. Pillow and Remote were trying to kill each other, Liy was using Marker to draw on the floor, Bottle was trying to put Pen inside of her and Black hole was trying to wake up Pie from her sleep.

"Good luck!", Bell said, immediately disappearing.

"EVERYONE! STOP ACTING LIKE FUCKING CHILDREN!", Tree yelled aggressively at everyone.

They all stopped and stared at him.

"I know we all want to rip our brains out but I need y'all on board here"

They all rounded up to a cloud table. Tree unrolled a large paper, turning out to be a map.

"Okay. First of all, how many of you guys have reports from your territories?", Liy asked.

"I have 2", said Tree.

" I have 70 of them", Pen said.

"Alright, anyone else has more?"

No said anything.

"The reports are from Pen's territory, aka the Goiky desert, especially from the north side", Tree pointed out the desert. "They seem to be going to the grasslands, aka my territory"

"Okay, now how do we find them?", Remote asked.

"Or when do we kill them?", Pillow said, giving creepy smile.

"Well, they stole a horse. It has a tracking device. Also reports mentioned of a leaf girl protecting the fire element", Pen said.

"Leaf girl... Do you know who?", Tree asked.

Pen took out a folder full of information.

"Yeah, her name is Leafy, a lemon leaf, she's around the age of 16 to 19, she ran away from her home at the age of 9, stole money from a lot of men, seen a couple times in clubs, plazas and the black market..."

Pen continued. "And was recently seen in the desert, murdered over 40 objects, and helped the fire element burn an entire neighborhood"

"Do you know anything about the fire element?", Pie asked.

"Nothing, I only know about the girl because someone claimed to know her, with they seem to be right"

"Pen, you mentioned about them having a horse? We're going track them and kill the fire element", Tree said.

"What? But we can't kill an object ", Black hole tried to fight again it.

"IF WE DON'T KILL IT, it will kill others... And we can't have another war with the elements", Tree defended. "So, everyone agrees with killing the fire?"

Everyone nods.

"Okay, now let's track them"

Chapter 12: Get him

Warning: swearing, violence, blood and suggestive jokes.

Firey and Leafy were on the horse, riding it. It was midday, sun was scorching hot, no clouds were in the sky.

"Ugh... I swear I felt bugs crawling on my face last night", Leafy said, whipping her sweat away.

"Yeah... Bugs...", Firey quietly said, his face turning a bit blue.

"That was very odd of me to do that last night... Why was I even touching her face? I have no need to hold her face... THEN WHY DID I DO THAT?? If she finds out she's gonna think I'm weird..."

"You okay? You're very quiet. You haven't asked me your daily 2763 questions"

"Yeah, I'm fine. Just a little confused about something..."

Up in the sky, were Pen and Tree preparing for capturing Firey. Tree grabbed a fire extinguisher and put it in his leaves.

"Yooo that's so cool!", Pen got closer to Tree. "Here take this", he put a bomb in his leaves.

"I don't think we need that..."

"Shush, we never know. Anyway let's go before they get away"

They both stood waiting for bell to come. Then she did.

"Sorry boys, I was hanging out with my friends"

"Whatever...", Tree climbed on Bell.

Pen also climbed on her. Holding the string.

"Bell, please don't drop down. Just go down slowly..."

Bell smugged at Pen.

"Hold on tight, boys"

"Bell, don't you da-", he then started to scream loudly.

As they went down, Pen was holding on tight to Bell's string and Tree he was looking at Pen, irritated by his screaming.

"The hell is that sound?", Leafy said, looking around in all directions.

"Umm Leafy... Look up...", Firey points to Bell falling in the air.

"Is that a bell?!"

Bell stopped falling before she hit the ground. Pen was horrified and Tree fixed his leaves.

"Good afternoon, Miss Leafy and the fire", Tree said, getting off of Bell.

"Leafy, do you know this guy?"

"I don't know, I must've been drunk..."

"What? No. I didn't even know about your existence till last night", Tree added.

"Oh, Kay. Well then we'll be on our way", Leafy said, while trying to get away from them.

"I'm sure your father taught you some manners, we just want to talk..."

Leafy's face curled up in anger, but ended up getting off the horse and gave them a fake smile.

Firey was skeptical, his fire slightly blue in anger.

"...Yes, sir. He did... What is it that you need?", she politely asked.

"That's better... Well we're here for the fire element", Tree said, getting closer to them. "We don't mean any trouble, if you just give him to us, we'll reward you with money. I'm sure you need it..."

"I'm sorry Sir. I won't do that. Have a good day",she got back up the horse and they walked away.

"Ugh... Pen, get the tranquilizer... Just hit the girl"

"On it boss", Pen took out a tranquilizer gun and pointed at Leafy.

"Watch out!", Firey yelled, pushing Leafy off the horse.

"Damn it... You get the girl, I'll get the fire", Pen said, taking out a knife.

"Oh no, you fucking don't!", Leafy yelled at Pen, then took out a knife as well.

She ran towards Pen, and tried stabbing him but he dogged it. He kicked her down to the ground, making Firey infuriated.

He jumped off the horse and ran towards Leafy, but was stopped by a splash of water.

Tree had thrown him a water balloon. He was injured, but he didn't care, he had to save Leafy. So he continued running.

Tree chased him, he put his hand inside his leaves and took out a fire extinguisher.

Pen was right about to stab Leafy when Firey kicked him. Then Firey helped Leafy get up from the ground.

"I can defend myself, imbecile", she snarled at him.

"What...", Firey mumbled to himself, confused by her sudden rude behavior.

"WATCH OUT!", she pushed him from the foam of the fire extinguisher. Pushing Firey burned her hands, triggering him again.

He stood still. He wasn't able to move, he was sweating lava drops, his eyes widening, his heartbeat accelerating.

"FIREY PLEASE SNAP OUT O-", she was cut off by Tree, he had thrown her to ground.

"PEN HURRY UP KILL THE FIRE", Tree said, giving him the fire extinguisher.

"You're quite rebellious", Tree choked Leafy. "Why are you even protecting him? He's fire, he'll end up hurting you in the end"

She tried freeing herself but didn't have his strength.

"Shut up, will you?", she put her hands in his leaves, trying to grab something, that made Tree choke her harder.

Firey heard Leafy grasping for air, which made him snap out of his state. "LEAVE HER ALONE! IT'S ME YOU WANT!", He yelled, running towards Tree.

Pen followed him and started to use the extinguisher on him. It slowly extinguished Firey.

Tree let go of Leafy before she suffocated to death. Then he ran towards Pen to help him extinguish Firey.

Leafy immediately got up and threw a knife at Pens eye. Ink slowly dripped out of his eye, he was screaming in pain, Tree went to go help him. He dropped the fire extinguisher.

Firey took the opportunity and got in front of Leafy. His flame burning high and blue. He was protecting her.

"Firey, stop. Trust me"

He looked at her, confused. But he did trust her. She got in front of him, she took out a bomb and lit it up.

"Hey boys! Catch", she threw it twords Pen.

"Snatch. Hey Tree, I caught it"

"Pen, you idiot"

"Oh, FU-"

Then the bomb when off.

...

All around was covered in smoke. Leafy had been nocked out by the explosion. She woke up.

"Fi... F-fire... Firey...", Leafy tried to call out for him.

She slowly got up from the ground. Her legs were shaking, a strong ringing was in her ears. Her face was covered in burns and bruises.

"Firey!", she called to him again.

But no response.

"FIREY! WHERE ARE YOU?!", she started searching for him. "PLEASE ANSWER ME"

As she walked she saw an arm, she immediately got closer to it. She fell on the ground, holding the arm.

"N-no... N-no... P-please... Come back...", tears fell from her eyes. "Don't leave me..."

She held on tight to the arm, crying. Then Firey, who had just woken up, saw Leafy holding an arm from behind.

"Please tell me you're not planning on eating that..."

"FIREY?!", she immediately turned around. Throwing the arm.

"The one and only", he said, joyfully.

She ran to him, arms wide open, Firey did it as well. It was like two kids who hadn't seen each other in days.

As soon as they were going to hug, they stopped. They both remembered that they were both two different elements.

"Um... Glad you didn't die", Leafy said nervously.

"Heh... Thanks. I'm glad you're okay as well"

"Firey... I'm sor-"

Then Leafy felt a stab in her belly. "What the... Ow..."

She looked behind her and saw Pen, who was completely burned, ink dripping from all over his body.

She took out the knife from her belly and sliced Pen in half.

"I think I'm actually going to be sick...", Fireys said, covering his mouth.

Then he saw Leafy bleeding. Making him faint. She stared at him from the floor, rolling her eyes.

It was nighttime already, Leafy had been carrying her stuff, Firey's stuff and Firey. He started to open his eyes, trying to understand his surroundings.

"...H-huh?..."

"Aw... Is my coma patient finally awake?", Leafy said, playfully. Looking at him from behind.

"ARE YOU OKAY?", he immediately picked her up and tried to see the wound, which was already patched up. "Oh, good you already did it"

"Damn... You're strong", she said, without thought.

Firey raised his eyebrows and his cheeks flushed.

"Uhh... Probably cause I'm a leaf, I must weigh like nothing... Nevermind...", she immediately added.

"Sorry, I didn't mean to just pick you up", he nervously said, putting down. "Hey, what happened to the horsie?... Wait... Did it die?"

"Surprisingly, it didn't, but I had to leave it far in the desert"

"WHY?!"

"The men who tried to kill us were using it to track us... It's the only thing I've stolen that could have a tracking device"

"And the drink?", he questioned.

"No way... Anyways I'm tired. I've been carrying all our stuff, including you and I need my sleep", she said, going far from Firey.

"Oh, sure. Night..."

He laid down on the ground, thinking about her. He was very confused by his feelings twords Leafy, but he knew it was love.

"H-hey Firey... C-could I sleep next to you? I'm just cold..."

"Of course! There's no need to ask"

"Thanks", she laid down next to him.

They both stayed in silence until Fireys spoke.

"Why are you unkind sometimes? I just don't understand...", he asked.

"I-i... I-i don't know... There's a reason... I just can't seem to remember... Maybe I don't wanna remember", she then started to tear.

"Why are you crying?"

"I-i like you... I-i w-want you...", she quietly said.

Firey's cheeks slightly flushed.

"But I'm scared... I don't know why I'm scared..."

"Is it because I'm fire?"

"No...", she thought for a second. "Maybe cause you're a... Boy..."

He felt his heart shatter, even though he had heard more hurtful words, it was somehow worse.

"But... You're the weirdest boy I've ever met. I feel more safe with you... Friend..."

"F-friend?", he smiled at her.

"I would like to have one", She softly placed her hand over his.

Firey felt like he could breathe. He was sweating and his face was turning blue.

She noticed his state and pulled her hand away. "Well uh just forget I said anything... Night, fireass"

"Why are you always talking about my butt?", he laughed.

"I kinda wanna peg it"

"You wanna what?"

"Good night, Smokey"

"...Um... Good Night...?"

"Can't believe I just said that... But he didn't understand it... But STILL WHAT THE ACTUAL FUCK IS WRONG WITH ME?... Leafy. Please get your virgin ass mind out of the gutter", Leafy thought, trying to go to sleep.

Firey couldn't sleep as well, his mind was full of thoughts, he had remembered his dream with Leafy. The feeling made him want to hold Leafys hand. But he couldn't ask that to Leafy.

"What am I gonna do?", he thought. Looking at the stars.

"I love her..."

I need sleep

Chapter 13: Sky watching

Warning: swearing, suggestive jokes and suicide attempt.

"Good even-morning, what can I get for you today?", Pin greeted a costumer. Giving a big fake smile.

"Strawberry shortcake, please"

"...Sure thing", she said, trying not to fall asleep. She then ran to the kitchen.

"We need a strawberry shortcake for table 3!", Pin yelled at the workers in the kitchen.

As she waited for the order she was slowly drifting to sleep.

"PIN, DAMN IT. STOP FALLING ASLEEP!", the manager yelled.

"I'm sorry Sir. I just had a rough night an-", she tried explaining.

"Does it look like I give a shit? GET YOUR ASS TO WORK!"

"YES SIR!", she said, running outside of the kitchen.

She ran twords an unattended table. With three objects.

"Good afternoon, what can i- oh... Freenerds", Pin said in disgust.

"Hey Pin"

"Pencil..."

"Good to see you. How is your child huh? Oh wait. I forgot, you don't have one", she laughed. Ice cube and Book looked at Pin embarrassed.

"Ha. Ha. HA. Very funny, how have you been since your parents sent you to the boarding school? HUH?!"

Pencil didn't answer back, she just gave Pin a threatfull face.

"... Are you going to ask us for our order or just stand there?", Book said trying to stop their fighting.

"Right, so what will you guys get?"

"I want green tea, with LEAVES and a lemon pie", Pencil mockingly said.

"I just want a yoylecake slice and Icy here wants a cold coffee", Book said.

"Wonderful choices, you can pay for the food right now while you wait", Pin said, walking away.

"That bitch will pay for getting me expelled", pencil quietly said to Book.

"Uhh... I don't know, Pencil. You shouldn't be so vengeful...", Book nervously said.

Pencil just ignored Book. Then she got an idea. A really bad one.

"Ptsss Girls, look at this", Pencil whispered to Ice cube and Book.

Pencil waited for Pin to pass by her. As she passed near her, Pencil took out her foot making Pin trip and drop the food she was holding in her platter.

Everyone in the cafe were Looking at her, then they started laughing at her. Pin finally snapped.

"THAT IS IT!"

She got up from the ground, taking off her hijab and her cap for her point. She launched twords Pencil, stabbing her right in her face.

"PIN! STOP!", Ice cube yelled. She tried to stop Pin but Book pulled her away.

Pin's point broke Pencil in half.

Everyone started backing away from Pin. And only then, she realized what she had done.

"Frick..."

Many hours later. She was sitting in a bench in the police department. She was thinking what could of happen, horrified and anxious.

"Pin Affluent, you're free to go", A police officer politely told Pin.

"Thank you...", she anxiously responded.

"You will have to pay for killing Pencil and we will inform your husband...", he said, giving Pin several documents.

"Okay, thank you sir", she quietly said, holding the documents.

"And Pin... This is the fourth time this has happened. Next time you end up here, they will have to chop off your point. Understood?"

"Yes sir...", she said, leaving the police department.

She walked down the streets, thinking about what had happened.

She watched other girls her age having fun, enjoying their life. Meanwhile she had to work and soon a parent.

She entered her house and went straight to the living room to think.

"What am I going to tell Coiny?...."

"... Oh I know..."

Now she was in her backyard, up in a tree tying a rope on it's branch.

"Okay... Just jump, Pin..."

Then she wrapped the rope around her head. She looked down at the ground, making her think twice. "Nope! Not doing this"

"What am I thinking? This will hurt Coiny. And I still have a life to live... What do I do?"

She looked up at the tree, crying. Then a leaf fell on her face. She held it in her hand, thinking about her friend.

"Really wish you were here..."

"What would you do?..."

"Hm... You'd run away..."

She was back inside her house once more. Staring at the ceiling, thinking.

"I could make a nice dinner... Well then I better get started..."

An hour later, Coiny barged trough the door. He was back from school.

"PIN I'M HOOOME!", Coiny yelled, in song tone. He threw his backpack on the floor. And running towards the kitchen.

"Oh, hello Coiny. Good to see you... How was school?"

"Boring as always. Woah, you've been busy. Is today our anniversary?", he said, getting nervous.

"Not that I'm aware of..."

"Oh... Well then why the big dinner..."

"I just thought it be nice to have... A nice dinner!"

Coiny sits down, obviously knowing she was trying to ignore what had happened.

"Pin..."

"What do you want, I can serve it for you"

"Pin-"

"Do you want a dirt cake after or-"

"Is this because you lost your job and the incident?"

"..."

"... No?"

"Pin, sweetie, what happened?"

"I guess I just snapped... I don't know"

"Look, Pin, I think we will have to go to the black market. Hopefully someone can help us..."

"Well then we'll go, tomorrow we get ready, for now let's just eat"

...

"I'm so fucking embarrassed right now", Leafy thought to herself,

"Sooo... I'm kinda curious... What did that word mean? The one that you said yesterday"

"You're to innocent to know...?"

"Come on, just tell me, I'm literally just one year younger than you"

"I would rather lose my virginity"

"Huh? Sorry, I still understand your language..."

Leafy started to laugh. "That's so racist, I didn't know you had it in you"

"Oh sorry, didn't mean it to come out like that"

"Stop apologizing for everything. There is literally no need to say sorry"

"Sorry I didn't me- sorr- yes ma'am"

"You're funny, anyways what should we talk about now?"

"How about we learn a little more about ourselves?"

"... Alright..."

"Why were you all alone in the desert?"

"Oh... I just... Didn't want to be at home..."

"Why not?"

"You know, you ask to many questions"

"First you agreed to this game and second we're friends! You know more about me than I know you!"

"Good, let's keep it that way"

"You're such a grumpy lemon leaf..."

"What happened to your mother?"

"Well she... Uhh... Why can't you trust boys?!"

"CAUSE LAST TIME I TRUSTED A BOY I WAS LEFT FOR DEAD!"

"Oh... O-okay, I'll shut up now"

"...", he wanted to say something to Leafy. He felt guilty for bringing that up. "I'm sorry that happened to you..."

"Didn't you just say you would shut up?", Leafy said, rasing an eyebrow.

"Leafy... I thought you trusted me, you can trust me... You know that right?"

"... Yeah, I know... And I do... Just a little confused. Let's just forget about this. Anyways, why are you so easily triggered by burns?"

"Not completely sure but I'm pretty sure it has to do with the burned towns by the forest..."

"Oh yeah... I saw them. They were full of asses- I mean ashes"

"Yeah... I think I used to live there, I don't remember what happened but it was obviously gruesome but I'm no- what's that?", he pointed out something green in the distance.

"What? Oh... OH!", she rubbed her eyes to see if she wasn't hallucinating. "HOLY SHIT! WERE IN THE FUCKING GRASSLANDS"

"Out of all the words there are you say naughty ones...", Firey murmured to himself.

She stared running towards it, Firey also following along. They ran deep in the grassland and threw her backpack to the floor. Then she lied down. "Finally out of that stinking desert"

"You don't like the desert?"

"Not when I've been stuck there for a years now"

"Years?", he asked, a little concerned.

"I kinda got lost, heh", she noticed Firey was just standing. "What are you waiting for? Just lay down "

"But what if I burn it??? Causing a fire through the entire land? Or-", he was then pulled to the ground. He burned some grass and flowers under him.

"See, it's fine. Your sexy ass just burned a little of it"

"Do all girls like butts or is it just you?"

"uhh... Just me, probably. Other girls would like to see that fire dick of yours"

"Ew... Why?"

"Beats me... But I'm sure you'll find out later", Leafy gave him a smirk.

They both laid in the grass. It was just two awkward and lonely teenagers.

"So... Where are we going? Or you're just going where the wind takes you?", Firey asked Leafy.

"I'm going back home. Hopefully I can revert my mistakes, or at least some of them... But what about you? Do you have somewhere in mind?"

"Kinda. My dad always talked about making his dream island so I'm thinking of making it. I'll put a giant hotel, many restaurants with robot servants and I would let whoever I want inside my island!"

"That sounds like heaven..."

"I would let you in my island"

"...Y-you mean it?"

"Of course! You're my best friend. I'd be wrong not to let you in"

"I guess I am your best friend..."

They both stare at the sky, watching how the clouds pass by.

Firey slowly tried reaching for Leafys hand, which she noticed and grabbed it. Firey was paralyzed, but a small smile appeared on his face. And Leafy had a flat, emotionless face but she was actually freaking out.

Her thoughts were circling around her head. "Oh shit... I've fallen for him... Haven't I?... Duh... What now? Should I make a move? Should I say something sweet?", she thought. "Fuck me..... I hope he doe-"

Firey was also freaking out.

"My stomach is aching, I feel like I'm going to explode", then Firey felt his body getting hotter. "FUDGEBERRIES, HOW EMBARRASSING. SHE KNOWS, I CAN'T GO BACK NOW. FIREY MAKE A MOVE"

"H-hey uhh... T-the sky looks p-pretty today, doesn't it?"

"Yeah. It does..."

Leafy was very nervous, but happy. For once she was with someone caring, she just pushed her confusion away and enjoyed the moment. Cause it can't always last forever. So she got closer to Firey.

They both softly stared at each other's eyes, Firey's face was turning blue, making Leafy giggle.

Leafy grabbed Firey's hand and put it on her cheek. Firey was completely blue, even a little of smoke came out of him. She then wrapped her arms around Firey's arm.

"I'm so lucky I found you", Firey quietly said to Leafy. Making her face flush a bit.

They both warmly smiled at each other, Leafy holding Firey's arm tightly, it was the closest thing to a hug for them.

They both eventually fell asleep.

When Leafy woke up it was night already. She had been woken up by Firey's arm moving, she noticed he seemed to be hurting.

She sat up and saw smoke coming from his arm. Realizing she was drooling on his hand.

"Why out of all objects, you had to be fire...", she thought.

She saw something glowing in the distance. She noticed it was a little town. They had to get moving if they didn't want to get caught.

"Firey?... I think we should get going...", she gently woke him up.

"Huh? oh it's nighttime..."

And once more again they started walking.

Near the town where Firey and Leafy were heading to, the iota fire elements were camping there.

"MATCH," STOP TRYING TO RUN AWAY!", Lifeboat yelled at Match.

"Like, I can't stand being with you old boring people "

"Match enough of this. You can't leave us!"

"JUST, LIKE, LET ME GO!"

Matchbox and meteorite were hearing all the yelling from them two.

"Teenagers...", Matchbox rolled his eyes. "They think they know everything and are old enough to do things on their own"

"I know, my son left the forest when I told him not to", he said, getting angry and and making a flame spark on him. He took a deep breath, and the flame disappeared.

"I mean I understand Match, she wants to meet new people and make friends... But that's not possible... Not for us"

"Well not for long...", Meteorite said, joyfully.

"That's right my, friend. Not for long", Matchbox repeated, pleased.

Chapter 14: Burned memory

Warning: violence, gore (Idk), angst.

"Mommy, why do we burn stuff?"

"Because we're fire, Sun"

Firey was next to his mother, lying in their rock bed.

"...Why?", he asked.

"Well it's just how we came..."

"Why?"

"We'll never know..."

"Why?"

"If you keep asking why, I will chase you"

"Why?", he asked one more time before running away.

"HEY! COME BACK HERE", his mother yelled.

He was laughing while her mother chased her.

"AHHH- YOU CAN'T GET ME", he screamed. He passed through the door and went outside, still running.

"I'm gonna eat you!", she yelled, not far behind from him.

He ran at his father and got behind his legs.

"Daddy, please don't let her eat me", he said to him, and took his tongue out twords his mother.

"Don't worry, she won't eat you... If you defend yourself"

Her mother looked at Meteorite to see if he was joking. But noticed how he was giving Firey a little push, indicating him to defend himself.

"Meteor, not again with this. He's a child, he doesn't know how to do that"

"When I was his age I was strong enough to live on my own. He needs to learn now, Idalia"

"Oh, of course. He isn't you, so en....", Firey stop listening to his parents arguing and his attention was now focused on a little leaf on the ground. It was being blown away by the air, so he chased it.

"Wait for me!", he giggled, trying to get the leaf.

He stretched his arm and was able to get it. "You're a fast little leaf. But I'm faster"

"HEY SUN, COME JOIN US!", Match yelled from far. She was with a a few young fire elements.

He started at the leaf one more time before letting it go. "Bye bye, leaf"

"Hi, Match!"

"Hi, Sun. We're trying to see can burn the brightest"

One of them started to burn bright, turning blue. So did the other two. Firey attempted but couldn't. The others giggled at him.

"I, like, can't burn bright too", Match whispered to Firey. "How about we play something else?", she asked the other kids.

"Like what?"

Match had made a bush of leaves and placed it over her head. "LOOK AT ME I'M A DUMB, UGLY EARTH ELEMENT!", she mocked.

"KILL IT", a child yelled.

"YEAH!", everyone yelled as well.

"Not if I do first", she said in a menacing tone.

They all launched at her and nocked her down. Firey was the only one who didn't launch at Match. Then they all started tickling her, she tried yelling for help from Firey but couldn't by her laughing.

"Wa-HAHA-WAI-WAIT ENOUGH!", Match got fed up. "Little guy, you don't want to play?"

"I do, but mommy said we could make friends with other elements"

"Pfft, then your mom is crazy. My mom said they are evil and want to water us down", a kid said.

"My dad said that they are horrible monsters who don't like anything different from them", another kid said.

"My grandma sa-"

"Nobody cares what your grandma said. And It's not his fault his mother is delulu"

"Everyone just shut up. Let's play something else. Sun, what do you wanna play?", Match said.

"I'm gonna leave..."

"Uh... okay, see you later!", Match yelled goodbye.

Firey ran back home, obviously sad.

"Hey Sun... What happened?", her mother asked.

"My friends called you delulu"

"Oh, they believe in other things. And that's okay. Want me to tell you a story?"

He nodded.

"A long time ago, all elements were friends. The world was a beautiful place, all objects lived in harmony, until a little accident happened that separated everyone. Especially us, fire"

"Why did that have to happen?"

"It was destiny, I guess. But I'm sure you're going to change everything. I know it"

Firey left the house once more and ran with his friends. They played and laughed together. Not knowing it would end in an instant.

"RUN!", A fire element yelled from very far away.

"EVERYONE RUN!"

"RUN TO THE FORE-", their yelling was cut off.

Immediately everyone started panicking, as soon as they saw the other elements with swords and water bombs.

Firey saw how all the parents immediately grabbed their children. Confused by the panicking, he didn't notice the danger by being alone without his mother or father.

Luckily his mother was able to grab him. She started running towards the forest but saw a lot of other elements elements entering. "Too dangerous", she thought.

She tried to turn back but an earth element threw a water bomb near her, causing his mother to drop him.

The element got closer to her, about to throw another water bomb. Firey knew he was going to hurt her, so he ran at his legs and bit him. While doing that, he didn't notice that he was burning him too.

His mother took the opportunity and grabbed the element into her fire. He was on in flames, his body was burning and dripping out blood. He screamed in pain, yelling for help.

"HELP! MAKE THIS STOP!", he yelled. Other elements heard him and started to run after Firey and his mother.

Firey saw everything. He froze up, leaving him horrified and traumatized.

His mother picked him up and ran at her house. She closed the door and ran into their bedroom, and started to remove some of the rocks of her bed and made a tiny hole just the size of Firey.

"Sun, don't forget what I told you. Don't see other elements as enemies. You're going to change how others see you, you'll see"

He didn't respond her.

"I love you, Sun. Remember that, please", she gave him a little kiss in the head.

She quickly placed him in the hole and covered it with the rock.

"Bye bye, Sun"

Firey didn't even understand what was happening, he was frozen, he didn't even realize he was in a hole.

He heard his mother yelling but he didn't know what she said. He couldn't get the screaming out of his head, the burning bodies and the screams of pain had been on repeat.

He felt like it was his fault. Probably the only thing he understood was that, fire hurts people.

Then he heard his mother screaming, but was then cut off after. His eyes widened, realizing that they did something to her.

"...Mama?...", he quietly asked.

He then heard footsteps from inside the house. He started to hyperventilate, he closed his eyes tightly and covered his mouth, hoping they wouldn't hear him.

"Wait shh, shut up"

"What?"

"Did you hear something?..."

"..."

"Hmm... Guess not..."

The footsteps got weaker, they left the house. Firey heard crying from his people. Begging to let them go. Then he heard the sound of hooves and wheels squeaking.

After a while he got out of the hole, leaving his house. He saw ashes blood and swords in the ground. All of that made him anxious, he was so scared he felt his limbs numb.

"...Mama?...", he yelled.

"... Daddy?..."

"...Anyone?..."

He sat down on the burned ground and curled up in a tiny little ball. Tears started to fall out his eyes, he shut his eyes and hit himself in the head, hoping it was just a very bad dream.

"Sun...", meteorite spoke.

"Daddy?", Firey immediately got up and saw him.

"SUN!"

"DADDY!"

"I'm so glad you're okay... Where's your mother?"

"I don't know..."

"Oh..."

"Don't leave me..."

"I won't, I promise"

He grabbed him by the arm and started to walk twords the forest.

"Baba, why are we going to the forest?"

"We'll be hiding from the bad people, where no one can find us"

"But daddy, what if I burn the forest?"

"You'll be fine, just learn to control your fire"

They walked in deeper, Firey found out only one his friends made it. Match and her family.

"Little man! Good to see you're okay, do you know if anyone else is okay?"

".... I-i... I... D-don't.. know", he started to choke on his words. Then out of nowhere he started to cry.

He held on his father's legs, not wanting to let go. Match looked at him confused, unsure of his crying.

"Sun... Go with Match, I need to talk alone right now"

"NO! NO, I DON'T WANNA!"

"I'm not going anywhere, I just need to talk to Match's parents"

He sat down next to Match and hugged her. She caught by surprise but understood he was going through a hard time.

"You, like, saw everything?"

"Match... They're not the bad people... We are"

"Sun. What do you mean?"

"Meteorite, we've lost everything and everyone, we can't just fight back. And not only that, our kind will be extinct", Match box said to meteorite

"I know, we could...", then he saw firey and match, hugging and comforting each other. "Our kids... I might have an idea..."

Lifeboat got closer to Match and Firey. "Match, come on"

"Sure thing, meteor. See you in a few years", matchbox confirmed to meteor.

"Bye Sun", Match waived goodbye.

Firey just waived back.

"Do they have to go?", Firey asked his father.

"Yes Sun, now let's look for somewhere to stay"

After a while of exploring the forest, they decided to stay up in the mountain, inside a cave. Meteorite made a little rock bed for Firey, then he placed him carefully on it.

"Try to get some sleep, okay?"

He nodded.

His father left the cave and sat down on the ground. Looking at the village, his home. His wife, his life and his people. All gone in an instant.

He remembered all the times he fought wis his wife, now he realized he should've enjoyed the moments he had with her.

He would give anything to see her one more time.

He was stuck in an endless loop on regret and pain. But then a small and quiet voice spoke.

"Daddy..."

"What happened, my child?"

" I had a bad dream... And I wet the bed..."

"Oh... Don't worry about it, it's okay...", he picked up firey and placed him in his lap. Firey hugged him back.

"...Will I see momma again?..."

"One day... When it's our time..."

"Son, we're going to make an island in the middle of the ocean and you'll start a new family. You won't be the last of the pure fire elements"

Firey was having the worst day of his life but for others it was just like any other day.

In yoyleland, was young Leafy. Outside in her backyard of her house, the young girl was hanging up clothes.

"LEAFY!", her mother yelled from inside the house.

"YES, MOTHER?!", she yelled back.

"HURRY UP, YOUR FATHER WILL BE HERE ANY MINUTE"

"Oh shoot! GOING MOTHER!", she immediately hanged all the clothes and ran inside the house.

She was such a sweet and kind girl. Sucks she had to change.

As the years went on they both grew, Firey lived in the forest, not remembering a single thing about the massacre. And Leafy she was a runaway and a thief, everyone hated her. The only one who didn't was her best friend. But that story is for another day.

Firey's father was preparing to leave the forest. As he would try to get a job in the near towns.

"Daddy..."

"Yes, son?"

"Can I go with you, please? I really want to see what i-", he was cut off.

"If you leave, you will be killed"

"What?"

"You heard me. Other elements are vicious, heartless objects who will not hesitate to water us down. Don't you ever forget that"

"I can't lose you, too"

"I'll be back, I promise", they hugged each other before meteorite left.

"Don't leave the forest. Understood?"

"Understood"

Firey watched him leave from afar and was excited for him to come back. So he waited

And he waited. And he waited. And waited. Nothing. Days passed away, weeks, months and he didn't return.

Firey had lost hope, he knew he wasn't coming back.

"He's not coming back... Is he?"

He sat on the corner of his bed. Hoping his father didn't leave him.

"Maybe he got lost. Or maybe he's in danger. Maybe he's been really busy and can't come back... Or....Maybe he's.... dead....."

That last thought destroyed him. Thinking about it, made him anxious, scared and sad.

"Why would I think that... He's alright... He's going to come back... Right?"

Tears dripped out of his eyes. His breathing started to quicken, his flame died down.

"I know he's fine!... Everything is fine... HE IS FINE! HE IS FINE! HE'S FINE! FINE! FINE!", he yelled to himself.

He started to cry, but not normal, his crying was worsening, it was almost violent. He couldn't control it. He hit his head many times, trying to snap out of it but didn't work.

He would take large gasps of air and then sob very loudly the air out. His throat was sore, his body was shaking, his flame almost transparent.

He lied down and continued to cry, but not as bad as a while ago. He wanted to believe his father was okay and he would come back. Some lies he told to himself, at least that's what he thought.

"P-please... c-come back...."

"P-p-please..."

For days Firey didn't leave his cave, he just wanted to rot away in his bed. But he didn't want to die without leaving the forest. Eventually firey had to move on if he wanted to survive.

For years he followed a routine, by the time of sunrise he would be up and ready to search for materials, and before midday he would pick up a book in the library. In the afternoon he would read, eat a bit and daydream. One day, that was like any other day, he followed his routine, and in the library, he found...

Her.

UPDATE

Hola. Hello. Bonjour. I don't know any other hello lmao.

Here's a lil update.

I have to tell you guys...

I'm trying to make chapter 15 good. If you guys remember it was a really bad chapter. And the reason was because it was rushed.

Also because I was out of ideas lol.

But here's spoiler for what happens in the next few chapters:

Firey and leafy escape the town and go in the train. Pin and Coiny are in another train, a few scenes of them. Pin and Leafy will meet again.

We get to see Tree and him dealing with the whole fire problem. And Meteorite... Also the f r e a k y scene might get scraped (most likely).

Lord have mercy on me please 👀

I'll try to get the chapter out before the end of the month. SORRY IF IT DOESN'T!!!!!

DO YOU HAVE FANART?

IF YOU DO PLEASE TAG ME HERE ON WATTPAD, OR PUT IT UP ON INSTAGRAM (please put #bewitchedfireafy or tag me as @brisalolita @lolitsbrisa I don't know which one finds me). If you want to send it personally you can dm on Instagram or find me on discord as Breezie Sam.

I want to accumulate as much fanart so I can put it on the final chapter special.
